First in the World

Book - maze

Level - 1
Kingdom of mazes

Level - 2
Evolution

Soon

Sensible idea

Developing tale
for children and adults

Author Gleb Ganin
2015
Long ago, in a very distant kingdom, there lived a...

... Master of mazes...

... His life was very good until he met the King...

He was not bad, but sooo conceited - the most in life, the king wanted to be famous,...

But he did not know exactly how to do it, until met the Master of mazes...

... And then it all began...

... Learning about the capabilities of the Master, the King ordered him to create a maze-dungeon...

... From which no one could escape, or somehow get out...

... The fact that the king was very conceited. Wanted to be famous. But no matter how he tried, nothing worked...

Battle with neighboring kingdoms he lost, did not have a untold wealth and love him too no luck...

... Master thought about it... - there is no choice. And painted maze

... Or head from his shoulders

... After 5 years, the maze was ready...

One day the king went for a walk in garden-maze...

... And no one ever saw him again. He could not find his way back.

... And then, to these drawings...

Masons built the dungeon...

... So complex that no one could pass it...

And because learning about the unusual ability to Master, the king ordered him to build a maze...

... And not a simple labyrinth - a maze of the mind!

That even the smartest people in the world, could not solve it...

... Master thought about it... - there is no choice. And painted maze

... Or head from his shoulders

... And then the gardener planted a forest of shrubs and trees in a certain order...
Chief Adviser to the King decided to personally check out the complexity of the maze and nobody never saw him again.

People came to the palace to personally see the new miracle. Everyone heard oohs and aahs, but only blacksmith entered into the maze.

People heard about the impenetrable maze and many prisoners went into the maze. But none of them never returned.

The complexity of the maze... created a tangled maze... as requested the king.

People heard about the impenetrable maze... and none of them dared to...

The King has ordered: Send into the maze of the mind of all prisoners. And to someone who be able to find a way out, the king promised a pardon and freedom...

Initially, the people who wanted to get into the maze, was more than enough...

First into the maze went knights and other valiant warriors... then, the merchants and the aristocracy, and after, ordinary citizens of the kingdom...

In search of happiness, to there went: an astrologer, personal chef King, chief groom and even a blind man, who begged before near the monastery...

The king promised... To the one who be able to find a way out of the maze of the mind receives a half the kingdom and the beautiful daughter in the bargain. Or vice versa...

People came to the palace to personally see the new miracle. Everywhere heard oohs and aahs, but entered only blacksmith...

People heard about the impenetrable maze. But go into it, no one dared to...

The king promised... To the one who be able to find a way out of the maze of the mind - receives a half the kingdom and the beautiful daughter in the bargain. Or vice versa...

And after about him no one heard. Or head from his shoulders...

Chief Adviser to the King decided to personally check out...

The complexity of the maze... But none of them never returned.

And after about him no one heard. Or head from his shoulders...

And then... The King has ordered... Send into the maze of the mind of all prisoners. And to someone who be able to find a way out, the king promised a pardon and freedom...

And then... The king promised... To the one who be able to find a way out of the maze of the mind - receives a half the kingdom and the beautiful daughter in the bargain. Or vice versa...

And then... The King has ordered... Send into the maze of the mind of all prisoners. And to someone who be able to find a way out, the king promised a pardon and freedom...

And then... The king promised... To the one who be able to find a way out of the maze of the mind - receives a half the kingdom and the beautiful daughter in the bargain. Or vice versa...
... Whatever it was, the people who wanted to conquer the maze of the mind was a lot, but who got out of it - was no one...

... Only the Master could find a way out of this web of moves ...

... King was treacherous, and did not want to share the kingdom with anyone. Fearing that the mystery of the maze will be known to someone else, the king decided to kill the master ...

He summoned the executioner, but no one answered, because the executioner also went into the maze, and as others - did not return.

... Then the king summoned the guard. But no one answered. In the castle there was no one who could cause harm to the Master. And not only in the castle - the whole kingdom was empty. There were only women, children and the elderly ...

... The terrified King looked around - finally understood what had done. But it was too late ...
... King heard these cries and immediately the fear crept to his heart and then he like mad ran away...

... But where? Where to hide? Of course into the maze of the mind!

... Or the end of the whole Kingdom...

... Around the castle had already gathered women, they wanted to know what had happened to their husbands, sons and fathers? All of them had shouted angrily and called the King to the answer...

... Three days and three nights the people of the kingdom were on duty at the entrance and, finally, on the fourth day the Master came out of the maze, and behind him were almost all of the lost citizens of the kingdom.

Could not find only the executioner and the blind man who begged near the monastery...

... The King was so happy about to the favorable outcome therefore, without hesitation he handed Master his crown, right in front of all residents and said:
- Master your maze of the mind conquered the whole Kingdom, and therefore this crown is rightfully belongs you - and gave the golden crown.
Then the Master and Princess were married, in the local council, the residents of the kingdom returned to their homes, to their families. King went to a small house which was remote from the lock and began there to grow cabbage...

... Two girls...

... Two boys...

... A year later the master and Princess gave birth to...

... That's a fairy tale ending. Who understood - well done! Who does not understand - will grow cabbage!

Since then, much time has passed but alive to this day the rumor about the distant beautiful Kingdom, the road to which was the florid and ornate.

Barbarians repeatedly tried to capture, conquer or destroy the Kingdom florid paths, but no one could find a correct way, or at least a way out of the maze of the mind.

The moral of this tale:

Perhaps, our life is not correct, like a maze, entangled continuous deadlocks. But there is a solution! And a true Master knows it, the desperate situations just does not happen.

Well, I want to congratulate you if you have passed All this book, fully - I dedicate to you in the Master!

Since then, much time has passed but alive to this day the rumor about the distant beautiful Kingdom, the road to which was the florid and ornate.

Barbarians repeatedly tried to capture, conquer or destroy the Kingdom florid paths, but no one could find a correct way, or at least a way out of the maze of the mind.